vs.)	MOTION FOR EXTENSION

Defendants and Appellees)

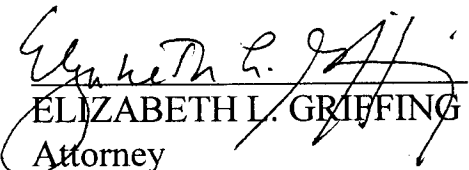

The ACLU of Montana Foundation (ACLU-MT) has moved this Court for leave to file an amicus brief in the above-entitled matter. The original motion for leave to file the amicus requested permission to file the brief on June 9, 2010, two weeks after Appellant's opening brief was due. After the filing of the amicus motion, Appellant moved for an extension of time within which to file her brief, which was granted by this Court. Currently, Appellant's opening brief is due June 15, 2010.

In light of Appellant's extension of time to file the opening brief, ACLU-MT requests until an extension of time until June 29, 2010, within which to file its amicus brief, if the Court grants leave to file the brief as based on the original motion currently before the Court. Such an extension would be consistent with the ACLU-MT's requested status to file an informational amicus brief in support of neither party, and also allow both parties an opportunity to respond to the brief.

Counsel for the parties has been contacted and Appellant has objected to the filing of this extension of time as she had objected to the filing of the amicus brief, and Respondent's counsel has been contacted by electronic mail and voice mail, but has not responded.

Respectfully submitted this 4TH day of June, 2010

ELIZABETH L. GRIFFING
Attorney
